

ADULT SUPPORT GROUPS/PROGRAMS
Division of Social Work
June 2026

Many of our adult patient/family groups and programs listed below are held virtually via Zoom or telephone. Patients/families who receive care at any of our DFCI locations across the network are welcome to reach out about any of our groups and programs. For more information or to connect with a clinical social worker at Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, call: 617-632-3301 or visit <http://www.dana-farber.org/supportgroups>.

If you are not a Dana-Farber patient and are interested in attending a Dana-Farber support group, please call 617-632-3301.

Please note: Dates below are only listed through June 2026. Another calendar will be circulated next month. Additional meetings will be held in upcoming months.

ADDITIONAL ADULT PATIENT/FAMILY SUPPORT PROGRAMS

Blum Programming: Integrative Spirituality Cancer Workshop Series

Integrative Spirituality addresses the role of spirituality in coping with cancer, introducing spiritual practices including approaches to meditation, breathwork, and relaxation in supportive community. Led by Yaroslav Nalysnyk, MD, DMIn, Catholic priest and Chaplain at Dana-Farber.

To join this workshop, please visit <https://dana-farber.org/resource-calendar>. Advance registration is not necessary. If you have any questions, please reach out to Blum\_Center@dfci.harvard.edu.

Parents with Cancer

Provides supportive resources to adult patients who are parents, addressing their needs as parents and those of their children of all ages. Age-appropriate information is available through various materials, including:

- A parent resource folder with tip sheets and additional resources
- Age-based packs for children/teens of patients
- Age-based support packs for children/teens of patients
- Grief information

For more information, please call 617-632-3301 (Social Work main office).

Visit: www.dana-farber.org/parentswithcancer.

One-to-One: Connecting with Someone Who's Been There

If you or a loved one is navigating a cancer diagnosis, our free telephone support program can connect you with understanding peers who have walked a similar path. Imagine having someone who truly understands, who's been there themselves, ready to listen. Over one to two phone calls, our peer mentors are here for you, offering heartfelt support and guidance on your journey. This free telephone program is available to Dana-Farber patients, caregivers, and loved ones. Get connected today by calling 617-632-4020 or emailing onetooone@dfci.harvard.edu.

To learn more, visit www.dana-farber.org/onetooone.

SoulMates

For individuals facing a breast cancer diagnosis, connecting to someone with a similar experience can be a great source of comfort. Our SoulMates program matches breast cancer patients at Dana-Farber with volunteers who have been through a similar journey. SoulMates participants can benefit from the insight of a peer mentor who is trained in topics such as listening, problem solving, and confidentiality. These volunteers offer emotional support, practical coping tips, and more. They guide patients to Dana-Farber programs and community resources. Most importantly, they help relieve fears and concerns because they understand what it's like to face cancer. This program is currently open to women of all ages with breast cancer who are receiving their treatment at Dana-Farber. Volunteers must be out of active treatment for at least two years. For more information, call Anna Lunsford at 857-215-5042.
